Treat your slip disc without surgery now!

Spinal Decompression Treatment from Canadian Decompression and Pain Centers (CDPC, Canada), is available in Gurgaon now. This is a Non-Surgical technology used primarily to treat disc injuries in the neck and lower back. In between our vertebra, there is a gel like substance called the disc, which acts as a cushion against forces on our spine. Either due to an surgical decompression is a technology used primarily to treat the disc injuries in the neck and the lower back like disc protrusion and sciatica", says Dr Meeta Nanda of Orthocure Clinic. "Degenerative disc disease, Spinal Arthritis and Spinal Stenosis can be effectively treated with the help of this machine. Orthocure Clinic is offering this treatment in association with CDPC, Canada and it is the first accident or lifestyle related reasons (desk job) or even ageing, our vertebra might get compressed, resulting in the pushing out of the disc. The figure here depicts the various stages of disc herniation and conditions treated by this technology which is approved by Health Canada and FDA (USA).

This treatment is non-surgical, doesn't involve usage of any medicines or injections and also does not require you to do exercises at home. 38-year-old Akash Jain feels, "I had severe shooting pain. I took several pain relieving medicines. But the pain only subsided till the effect of painkillers lasted. Being diagnosed with a slipped disc, I was advised surgery. But after I started treatment at Orthocure Clinic and was put on the Spinal Decompression Machine, only within 6 sessions, my symptoms started disappearing. I can now sit for long hours and walk comfortably."

"Spinal Decompression Therapy has computer controlled movements to decompress the spine in a graded manner. This non-

and only such facility in Gurgaon," she adds.
